S. called V. on Sept. 21, 1955 in New York asking whether there are some news from I.

V. told that there are no more letters since the last (See COMMO oo3 Doc. 10A). V. was curious to know whether the letter Singer has sent has reached I.

S. answered that it was sent and an answer should be due any time.

V. then said that she does not think I will ever write to her. The father from I has received a letter from Australia, which said that I has two children, and it is not known whether I got married twice or not.

V., understandably, is very upset of these news and does not understand why I himself ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ did not write to her directly. V. was very depressed and confused, because she does not know what really happens to I.

S. tried to calm her telling that news from his brother were similar.

Madamina has written a letter to I father acknowledging the receipt of I son's <sup>letter</sup> This letter has upset I so much that ~~XXX~~ he cried like a small child for several weeks.

At the end of the conversation, V thanked S for calling and trying to help her. S. told her that he will try to call again and to find out of some news.
